

PAID FOR MURDER OF HER HUSBAND

Mrs. James King, Leading Church Worker, Now an Inmate of Cell.

CONFESSION IS MADE

She Gave $600 and Promise to Wed to Man Who Did Fatal Shooting.

Confesses Killing

Macon, Ga., December 27.—Mrs. James King, widow of the prominent Macon, Ga., planter who was killed here December 12, to-night confessed that she plotted with Nicholas Wilburn, a farm hand, to kill her husband so that she might marry Wilburn and secure $2,000 life insurance carried by her husband.

Macon, Ga., December 27.—Mrs. James King, forty-two, was arrested at her home near Round Oak, Ga., today after Nicholas Wilburn, twenty-five, in a confession to the police, is alleged to have admitted that he killed Mrs. King's husband because she offered him $600 to commit the crime and promised to marry him after it had been perpetrated.

James King, a prominent planter, disappeared December 12. His body was found with a bullet wound in the heart in a woods lot where he had gone hunting. His wife was keeping watch over the body. Indications were at the time that King was responsible for his own death. Investigation led to the arrest yesterday of Wilburn and James Barker, a negro.

In his confession today to the police, Wilburn, who is a farm and sawmill hand, is quoted as saying:

"Mrs. King offered me $600 to kill her husband. She said she wanted to get rid of him and promised to marry me if I killed him. He had $2,000 life insurance."

"On December 12 I was passing the King home. She called to me, and told me that Mr. King had gone hunting, and for me to go through the woods, find him and shoot him. I followed her and when he stopped to rest I sneaked up behind him, grabbed his gun and then shot him just over the heart. He begged me not to shoot him any more. Just then he fell over."

"I put his gun in his hand and arranged the body so as to make it look like he had shot himself, then went back to the house and told Mrs. King what I had done. She said I was a good boy and she thought a lot of me."

Barber, the negro prisoner, stated that a few minutes before the killing Wilburn had told him that he was going to shoot King. He said that he had frequently heard Mrs. King tell her husband that she would like to get rid of him because she was tired of seeing him sit around."

Mrs. King is the mother of six children. Her eldest daughter married a brother of Wilburn. Mrs. King has taken a prominent part in church work in Jones County. The King plantation is said to be one of the largest in Middle Georgia.

DANCE AT GOLDSBORO.

Young Women Give Last Leap Year German of Season.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Goldsboro, N. C., December 27.—Monday night in the Education Building the young women of the city gave the last leap year dance of the present season. The dance was led by Miss Sarah Wood and Miss Alice Freeman and Frank Crook.

Yesterday Paul Llatas, manager of a cafe, while attempting to shoot a giant firecracker, fell as it was about to explode, and the explosion tore his face up so badly that he had to be rushed to the city hospital for treatment.

Last night a negro man named Isaiah Lane, while celebrating Christmas, shot Frankie Gray, a negro woman. The ball entered her neck. The negro claimed he thought all the cartridges had been fired and did not shoot her purposely. When the officers arrived on the scene he was hidden under a house. He was arrested and tried this morning and placed under a $250 bond to await the next term of Wayne County Superior Court.

Last night a store house owned by I. P. Galey, of this city, was totally destroyed by fire.

Pinkie-Jenkins.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Spencer, N. C., December 27.—Prominent among the interesting social events of the week in Spencer was the marriage last evening at 4 o'clock of Miss Cora Mae, an attractive daughter of Mrs. Cynthia Jenkins, to Hugh L. Pinkie. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the bride's mother, on Salisbury Avenue, by Rev. C. R. Heller, pastor of the Spencer Presbyterian Church. The home had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being red and green.

Master Larry Barker, aged seven years, of Richmond, a cousin of the

The bridesmaid was Miss Francis Hopkins, of Tusculum, Ala., who for three years had been a college classmate of the bride. J. A. Hutchins acted as best man. The match of honor was Mrs. Lawrence Hooker, of Richmond, an aunt of the bride. The wedding march was played by Miss Beekie Ritch, of Charlotte. Preceding the entrance of the bride party, Miss Mary Heller sang "Absent."

Among the out-of-town guests in Spencer for the occasion were Mrs. Lawrence Hooker and son, Master Larry, of Richmond; Miss Frances Hopkins, of Tusculum, Ala.; Ernest Pippin, of McCall, S. C., a brother of the groom; Miss Beekie Ritch, of Charlotte; Marvin Ritch, of Washington city, and many others.

Immediately after the ceremony the newly married couple left on a south-bound train for Florida, where they will spend a short time. They will also visit the mother of the groom at McCall, S. C., before returning to Spencer, where they will reside.

JUDGE HERE TO ESTATE.

Half Brother's Property Valued at $100,000, Field State.
New York, December 27.—At the age of seventy-nine years, Probate Judge John Kennedy, of Idaho Falls, Idaho, will probably learn today that he has established himself to be half brother of William A. Kinnealy, who died in 1888, and sole heir to the latter's estate which has been held by New York State for over forty years.

The estate is valued at $100,000, and since the first advertisements were published of the location of relatives there have been a hundred claimants. The Idaho judge was one of the last to hear of the call for Kinnealy's relatives, and exception was taken to his claim because he spelled his name with an "L" instead of an "I" as on other grounds.

By a decision of Supreme Court Justice Page yesterday, however, he is declared to be the rightful heir. The State will file an appeal on the ground that the claim is insufficient.

SUSPECT DENIES MURDER CHARGE

Detectives Unable to Get Information From Negro Believed Implicated in Baroddy Assault.

When questioned last night at the Second Police Station by Captain of Detectives McMahon and Detective-Sergeants Wiley and Kellam, Eddie Smith, colored, suspected of being implicated in the murder of Elias Baroddy, the North Second Street confectioner, who was killed last week, denied all knowledge of the crime and the officers were unable to gather any information from him. Smith was arrested yesterday by Detectives Wiley, Kellam and Smith. He is believed to be one of three negroes who are thought to have assaulted Baroddy with a hatchet, after which they robbed his store.

Baroddy lingered several days after the murderous attack, but never became sufficiently conscious to furnish the police with any clues as to the identity of his assailants. It was even impossible to find out exactly what had been stolen.

The offer of a reward of $100 for the arrest of Baroddy's assailants has spurred the police to a more vigorous prosecution of the case. Other arrests are expected.

Smith is twenty-one years old and says he recently came here from Washington, D. C. No one is permitted to see or talk with him.

Negro Has Both Legs Cut Off.

Lynchburg, Va., December 27.—Henry Robinson, colored, aged about thirty-five years, had both legs cut off at Forest, on the Norfolk and Western, early this afternoon when he attempted to board a moving freight train. The negro was brought here and taken to the Lynchburg Hospital suffering greatly from shock.

BODY BROUGHT FOR INTERMENT

Dr. Smith, Fourth President of Randolph-Macon, Rests in Hollywood.

Complying with a request made in his will, the body of Dr. William Waugh Smith, chancellor of Randolph-Macon system of colleges, was brought to Richmond yesterday afternoon and interred in Hollywood Cemetery beside the grave of his first wife, who was Miss Ella Jones, of Richmond. Dr. Smith died on November 29 at Lynchburg, and the body was placed in a receiving vault at Spring Hill Cemetery.

The interment of Dr. Smith in Hollywood makes that the resting place of four of the presidents of Randolph-Macon College. There have been ten presidents of Randolph-Macon College since its founding in 1850, seven of them ministers and three laymen. The first president was Rev. Stephen Olin, D. D., who afterwards became president of Wesleyan University, Connecticut. The second president was Dr. Garland L. D., who died several years ago as chancellor of Vanderbilt University. The third was Rev. William A. Smith, D. D., who was the longest term of service and was the first to raise an endowment for the college, securing in 1855 an endowment of $100,000, one of the largest endowments possessed by any college of that day. Dr. Smith resigned in 1865 and accepted the presidency of Central College, Missouri. After serving several years in Missouri he returned to Virginia and died in Richmond in 1882, and was buried from Centenary Church in Hollywood.

Dr. Smith was succeeded by Colonel Thomas C. Johnson, who was killed in 1868 in a railroad accident in the West. He was succeeded by Rev. James A. Duncan, D. D., the founder of Broad Street Methodist Church, in Richmond. Dr. Duncan was the only president to die during his incumbency, his death occurring at Ashland in September, 1877. Like his great predecessor and teacher, Dr. Smith, he was buried in Hollywood, the funeral being conducted from Broad Street Methodist Church.

Dr. Duncan was succeeded by Dr. William W. Bennett, who resigned on account of ill health and died about a year afterwards in Louisiana County, and was buried in Hollywood. His successor was Dr. William Waugh Smith, whose body was brought from Lynchburg to Richmond for interment in Hollywood yesterday.

Dr. Smith was president of the Randolph-Macon College at Ashland and accepted the chancellorship of the system and to build up the great woman's college at Lynchburg. The three presidents who have come after him at Ashland are still living—Rev. James A. Kern, D. D., now professor of Vanderbilt University; Rev. William G. Starr, D. D., of the Virginia Methodist Conference, and Dr. R. E. Blackwell, who is now president.

DISCUSSES ART OF HISTORIAN

Colonel Roosevelt Delivers Address Before Six National Associations.

Boston, December 27.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, speaking on the "History of Literature" in Symphony Hall to-night, addressed members of six national associations here holding convocations here. He is president of one of these societies, the American Historical Association. The others are the American Association for Labor Legislation, the American Sociological Society, the American Statistical Association, the American Economic Association and the American Association of Political Economists. Colonel Roosevelt discussed the art of the historian from the standpoint of science, poetry, mythology and literature. He urged that history should welcome the entrance upon its domain of every science, and that future historians should make use of material from every possible source to convey vivid and life-like pictures to others of the past whose secrets they lay bare.

A great historian of the future, he declared, would be the man who had the genius to reconstruct for his readers the immense panorama of the past. He must possess knowledge and wisdom. He must use his material with "poetic wizardry" that shall see the past as it was and not the death that is. Whether it be Egypt, Mesopotamia, or Scandinavia with which he deals the great historian, if the facts permit him, will put before us the men and women as they actually lived, so that we shall recognize them for what they were, living beings.

SIMPLIFIED SPELLING ADOPTED.

Philadelphia, December 27.—Simplified spelling is recognized and embodied in the program of the thirtieth annual meeting of the Modern Language Association of America, which opened yesterday at the University of Pennsylvania.

Universities and colleges in all sections of the country are represented. Prof. Charles Hall Grandgent, of Harvard, president of the association, presided.

Among those who read papers were Dr. George C. Keidel, of the Library of Congress, Washington, and Prof. William Kurrelmeyer, of Johns Hopkins University.

The knockout came suddenly. Kerns landed a hard left to the ribs and a right to the neck. The blows appeared to stagger the Texas fighter, and he immediately rushed, and in a mixup sent a left hook up under Kerns's chin and followed it quickly with a right hook. Kerns dropped and was counted out.

Neither fighter showed much knowledge of boxing. The weights were: Willard 221, and Kerns 194. Sheriff Harberger, of New York County, presided over the bout in his official capacity and watched the contest closely, but made no move to interfere. After the bout he said he had seen no reason whatever for interference. During the afternoon he had received a telegram from the Governor, which read:

"I have just received from a responsible source a telegram in the following words: 'A prize fighter engaged to appear in a public contest at Madison Square Garden Friday night has made the following statement over his own signature: 'I will kick Willard with the first punch I can. I hope to put one on his jaw, or in his stomach. In the first round and step him as quickly as I did 'One Round' Davis. I will certainly try to put him to sleep as quickly as possible.' (Signed) ALFRED J. KEARNS.' 'I know that you will do everything proper and necessary in relation to this matter in the line of your official duty.'"

Gun Is Discharged, Exploding Dynamite

Drunken Indian Causes Fatal Disaster in Attempt to Murder His Family.

Lockport, N. Y., December 27.—Alexander Williams, the sixteen-year-old son of John Williams, one of the most influential Indians on the Tuscarora reservation, was instantly killed and Williams himself was probably fatally injured by an explosion of dynamite that wrecked their cabin today. The dynamite was set off by the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of the elder Williams, who, a moment before, had threatened to shoot his entire family.

Williams had been drinking heavily for a week. This afternoon when he came home his wife upbraided him. In a frenzy he rushed to a gun rack and took down a shotgun, declaring he was going to kill them all. He then rushed to a dynamite store. There was a terrible explosion. Young Williams was blown to pieces, and the father's right arm and shoulder were torn away. Mrs. Williams was only slightly hurt.

As the boys approached, Williams dropped the butt of the gun to the floor. The sudden jar discharged the weapon, and the charge tore into a cupboard where a quantity of dynamite was stored. There was a terrible explosion. Young Williams was blown to pieces, and the father's right arm and shoulder were torn away. Mrs. Williams was only slightly hurt.

TAFT'S ATTITUDE IS CRITICIZED

Adamson Thinks He Should Leave Canal Zone Government to Wilson.

Caracas, Gu., December 27.—Exception was taken in a statement today by Congressman R. Adamson, chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, to the proposed reorganization of the Panama Canal zone, indicated in recent utterances of President Taft.

Congressman Adamson, author of the law recently enacted for the government of the zone, says:

"President Taft ought not unnecessarily to weary himself about transforming the system on the zone. The next Congress and the next administration will have ample opportunity to accord proper recognition to Colonel Goethals and all the other builders of the canal, and President-elect Wilson will have ample opportunity to select officers to operate the canal and govern the zone."

The existing system is adapted to conducting the canal which will not be changed until "certain reasons" slide. The new plan of government is intended to recognize the role of the canal and the government of the zone as an adjunct and incident of the canal operation.

In conclusion, Mr. Adamson stated that it is his conviction that the canal should be secured in two years, and that "President-elect Wilson will provide ample time for satisfactory action."

STORM HAS DONE SERIOUS DAMAGE

Many Vessels Go Down With Crews on Coast of France.

Harre, France, December 27.—The storm which has ravaged the British Channel for the past few days has caused considerable damage to the French coast. The new harbor works of this port have suffered considerable damage. Disasters from Cherbourg state that many steamers and sailing vessels have taken refuge there from the gale. Telegrams from Brest say that the harbor is crowded.

A sailing vessel was driven ashore today on the island of Brehat, off the Brittany coast, and a torpedo boat has been sent from Brest to bring off the survivors of the crew.

Many fishing vessels have been lost with their crews at various points along the north and northwestern coasts of France.

Communication Delayed.

Paris, December 27.—The great storm which has prevailed throughout France yesterday and to-day has caused considerable damage to the telegraph and telephone systems in France. The government announced today that communication with Belgium and Spain can only be effected with much delay.

WILLARD BEATS SOLDIER KERNS

Knockout Comes Suddenly in Eighth Round, After Some Brisk Fighting.

New York, December 27.—Jesse Willard knocked out Soldier Kerns in the eighth round at Madison Square Garden to-night.

The knockout came suddenly. Kerns landed a hard left to the ribs and a right to the neck. The blows appeared to stagger the Texas fighter, and he immediately rushed, and in a mixup sent a left hook up under Kerns's chin and followed it quickly with a right hook. Kerns dropped and was counted out.

SWORE FALSELY AS TO AGE OF GIRL

Father of Young Woman Makes Charge of False Pretense Against Young Man.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Raleigh, N. C., December 27.—George W. Wood, of Zebulon, this county, was arrested here today on the charge of false pretense, in that he made oath to the Wake County Register of Deeds that Mary V. Brantley was eighteen years old in procuring a license for her marriage to Ellis Doss, when her father insists that she is only sixteen years old. The offense charged is a misdemeanor. The couple were married on Christmas Eve. T. R. Brantley, father of the girl, is prosecuting Wood, who was best man.

The prospectus has been sent out for a Democratic State weekly to be published in Raleigh by Colonel Alexander J. Field, retiring private secretary to Governor Kitchin, and Editor R. F. Lee. While the details of the plans for the publication have not been made public, it is understood that the initial number of the paper will appear early in the new year.

The people of Raleigh are already moving in the matter of preparations for the inauguration of Hon. Locke Craig as Governor. Alexander J. Field has been designated as chairman of the citizens' committee on inaugural ceremonies, and Major J. J. Bernard is to be in charge of the military details of the visiting military companies. Indications being that there will be an unusually large number of companies, especially from the western sections of the State.

The Raleigh Aldermen have definitely refused the proposition of the Wake Water Company. All the water plant in the city for $25,000. The Aldermen also propose to procure authority from the Legislature for a $100,000 bond issue to either buy the present water plant at a reasonable price and enlarge it to adequate proportions, or establish an entirely new water plant. The present water company has nine years more of its franchise to run. The Aldermen will also ask for an act of the Legislature enabling them to put in a new plant before the franchise of the present water company terminates.

With the near approach of the 1913 session of the General Assembly, Colonel J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State, is urging decided reform in the legislative machinery. He points out that entirely too much legislation is congested into the last week or two of the session. He says that in the session more than half the legislation of the session was rushed through during the last two weeks. During the 1909 session, 50 per cent of the legislation was passed during the last two days of the session, and 237 bills were rushed through on the last day. In 1911, 77 per cent of the bills were passed during the last two days of the session, and 237 bills were rushed through on the last day. In 1912, 77 per cent of the bills were passed during the last two days of the session, and 237 bills were rushed through on the last day.

RESIGNS BY REQUEST.

Dr. A. G. Mortimer Retires From Episcopal Pulpit in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., December 27.—The resignation of Rev. Alfred Garnet Mortimer, D. D., for the past twenty-one years rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Locust Street, near State, has been handed to Bishop Rhinelander.

Not until today was the fact known to the major portion of the parishioners of St. Mark's that their rector had severed his connection. The falling of Dr. Mortimer's power through illness and advanced age is said by those who have been interested should make haste to sign the blank which is printed on the sporting page of The Times-Dispatch. Those who sign now are acknowledged as having accepted the resignation, and all members must respect these rules.

If there is real interest in Richmond in track and field athletics and basketball, the members of the National Collegiate Athletic Association should make haste to sign the blank which is printed on the sporting page of The Times-Dispatch. Those who sign now are acknowledged as having accepted the resignation, and all members must respect these rules.

The men behind the intercity bowling contests have started with the right idea in mind. Once Richmond, Washington and Baltimore get fighting for bowling honors and the game will go forward with leaps and bounds. There is nothing like good, clean competition to stimulate interest. Since it is practically certain that the National Bowling Association will hold no tournament this year there is something needed in these parts to take its place. Richmond and the other two cities are too far apart to hold a tournament. The American Bowling Congress holds forth to send teams. The Tri-City League will prove a very acceptable substitute.

Mrs. Britton, manageress of the St. Louis Nationals, may find it a case of too much to expect Frank Farrell to accept his terms, and that he will not manage the Highlanders unless he does. The peevish leader says he has asked the largest salary ever paid.

BLAMES UNITED STATES

Castro Says American Government's Greed Caused His Downfall.

Paris, December 27.—Cipriano Castro, the deposed President of Venezuela, who is on his way to the United States aboard the steamer La Touraine, in an interview with a correspondent of the European edition of the New York Herald expressed the belief that his downfall was due to the American government, "which wanted to get possession of mines in Venezuela."

He, however, expressed the further belief that the present policy of the American government would permit South Americans to renew their relations with the United States and to fight the civil wars before he wanted to know the United States and live among a people noble and generous as were all peoples essentially inferior.

The ex-President charged Gomez with suppressing liberty and menacing life and property. He said he would be willing to return to Venezuela only if called by the Venezuelan people.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY

One Is Dead, One Fatally Hurt, and a Third Badly Wounded.

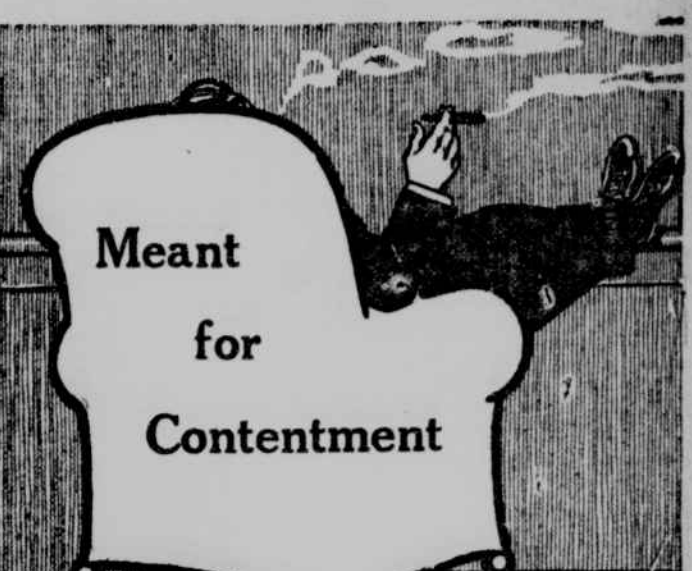

Talladega, Ala., December 27.—A shooting affray at a Christmas Day turkey shoot in the mountains of Clay County, southwest of Talladega, fifteen miles, resulted in the death of Joseph Lockey, his brother, and the serious wounding of John Dunn. Messrs. reports also stated that considerable drinking was indulged in at the contests, and the fight started over a petty difference. A feud among friends and allies of the men is feared.

BOY MUST GO BACK

Not "Crazy" About Returning to His Home in Yonkers.

Savannah, Ga., December 27.—George Young, sixteen years old, who ran away from Yonkers, N. Y., last week, was arrested by Savannah police, and will be sent to New York on the steamship Montgomery to-morrow. A telegram from the boy's aunt, Miss Florence Young, of Yonkers, asked that he be sent there. "I am glad to get out of jail," he said, "but I'm not crazy about going back to Yonkers."

The youth is the adopted son of Miss Mary Young, a wealthy woman of South Hadley, Mass.

We note with extreme pleasure that Washington and Lee University has become affiliated with the National Collegiate Athletic Association. If it were not undignified we would get on the street corners and shout "Hurrah!"

This puts the Lexington school on a plane with the larger universities of the country and settles once and for all the question of eligibility rules. Next year we look to see Washington and Lee well to the front in college athletics and this time without any to question her right to supremacy.

If the rest of the schools of the State were to take the same step a wonderful advance will have been made toward purifying college athletics. It is one thing for each individual college to insist that the college is a private institution and is absolutely legitimate, and another for everybody else to know it. General complaining this. That is what is done by the National Collegiate Athletic Association—laying down general rules as to amateurism, and all members must respect these rules.

Roger Bresnahan is still unattached, despite claims by Messrs. Iroquois and Dreyfus that each had secured the Duke's services. Bresnahan is still trying to secure a contract as a contract except in St. Louis.

If Clarke Griffith is really looking for training grounds for his Climbers, and will be satisfied with anything short of the Garden of Eden, he can come right to Richmond, where a new ball park, equipped with a modern clubhouse, right on the river bank, with a fine view of the city, is awaiting him. Just one thing is needed to make the Washington club a sure pennant winner—about five weeks of Richmond atmosphere.

Amateur ball players are already champing the bit and watching the weather reports for the first blizzard of spring. The meeting of the commission is to be held January 10, when real preparations for the coming season will be begun.

Review of Trade.

New York, December 27.—Bradstreet's will say to-morrow:

What is described in most sections of the country as a record holiday trade has crowned a year which has had few equals and fewer superiors in nearly every line of human endeavor. This, of course, refers directly to volume of product or value of output, rather than to margins of profit, which are conceded to have been cut in many lines.

Best reports as to holiday retail came from the West and Northwest, most parts of the Southwest and the Pacific coast. In the Eastern States trade has been good, and there are many large centres reporting the year-end trade as breaking all records. Less buoyant advice came from the southeast of the Mississippi, but here shorter yields are held mainly responsible. In wholesale trade and industry there has been a quieter tone.

As the year closes the feeling is one of cheerful conservatism, but not of pessimism, bred of the fact that three to seven months' orders are in hand. The end of the year finds the labor situation quiet as a whole, after a year notable for some big strikes and for many and widespread wage advances.

Holiday dullness prevails in the New York stock market, the renewed firmness of money due to end-of-the-year requirements also checking speculative activity. A somewhat improved sentiment is displayed, however.

Business failures for the week ending December 26 were 232, against 322 last week and 254 in the 12th week of 1912. Failures in Canada for the week were nineteen in number.
